She stated, in her view, the horse did not handle the rain-affected conditions and was obliged to niggle the horse in the early stages in order to attempt to improve onto the back of the field. Apprentice Thornton added she attributed this to her mount being more suited to races over longer distances, adding that the horse was doing its best work over the concluding stages and would appreciate a step up in distance.

McGillivray advised that it was always his intention to lead in the race, however after being ridden forward to lead from the wide barrier, his mount refused to settle after passing the 1100m and overraced for the majority. He added that, in his opinion, the combination of the extra pressure being applied in the early stages and the horse overracing may have contributed to its finishing effort today. Stewards noted the explanation.
