

GUIDELINE: GREYHOUND DRESS CODE

1. Purpose

Racing Queensland (RQ) is committed to enhancing and promoting the image of Greyhound racing in Queensland. The purpose of this Dress Code is to outline the minimum standards that registered persons are required to follow when participating at all Queensland Greyhound race meetings.

2. Scope

The Dress Code applies to licensed greyhound Trainers, Attendants and Catchers when:

- Kennelling a greyhound;
- Handling or parading a greyhound;
- Catching a greyhound; or
- When present in restricted areas such as kennels, parade areas etc.

3. Guidelines

Examples of acceptable items of dress (including picture samples), and unacceptable items of dress, are detailed in the following pages.

Queensland Greyhound Racing Clubs may ask participants to wear special feature race day attire on specified days or race meetings, i.e., black suit vests, bow tie etc.

RQ may approve race day attire for special purposes which falls outside the standards outlined in the Dress Code.

4. Roles & Responsibilities

When attending a race meeting in Queensland it is the participant's responsibility to ensure they comply with the Dress Code.

Non-Compliance

Failure to comply with this Dress Code will be considered an offence under GAR 156(w) and, where the Stewards are of the opinion that a person has failed to comply, the Stewards may direct that:

- Any offending item be removed; or
- Any offending item be covered.

Trainers, Attendants and Catchers may not be permitted to handle greyhounds for an event at a race meeting if the Stewards are of the opinion that the minimum dress standards are not met.
